

Hemex supports start-ups with a wide range of expertise in developing pharmaceutical products, diagnostics, medical devices and veterinary products. Our experts have made successful careers in the pharmaceutical and/or medtech industry and made pivotal contributions to the development and approval of innovative products.

To further develop our presence in social media, our team in Liestal (Switzerland) is currently looking for a

Digital Media Content Creator 20-30%

Responsibilities

- Picking up trends and news in order to create interesting content on our social media presence (LinkedIn, Twitter, ...)
- Overall responsibility for our visual “look and feel” in the digital and real world (website, company presentations, ...)
- General administrative support

Candidate Profile

- Creative with audio-visual communication, excellent graphical presentation skills
- Up-to-date knowledge of social media trends and channels
- Creativity and good understanding of life science industry
- Excellent English and fluent German communication skills, any other language is a plus
- Good knowledge of Wordpress, Adobe, MS Office, Photoshop, SEO, ...
- Dynamic, enthusiastic, reliable and independent team player with a startup mindset

Our offer

- Join a highly motivated and skilled team working on a variety of medical innovations
- Office-based employment in Liestal (Switzerland)
- Pleasant working environment in a dynamic organization

If you meet the described profile, we look forward to receiving your CV in English, including supporting documents, by e-mail to franziska.stemmler@hemex.ch